

Adding Navigation Buttons to PowerPoint

In PowerPoint, click on AutoShapes
Action Buttons

Choose the Next button
Click and drag a button on your slide. You can resize later if you wish.
Select Hyperlink to Next Slide.
Click OK and you have a Nav button!
It won't work on your editing slide – you'll have to start your slideshow to see it in action.

Add a Previous button the same way.
You might also want to add a Home button to each slide.

Once you finish the 1st slide, Save your slideshow.

To save yourself some work, click on this slide in the left frame.

Edit, and Copy.

Then Edit and Paste as many times as you'd like slides.

All you have to do is to go back and add:
